THE SCOTTISH VINTAGE BUS MUSEUM

Enjoy a nostalgic trip back in time at the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum. With a collection of buses, road and rail vehicles and public transport artefacts from all over the World, there's sure to be something that will bring back fond memories.

EXHIBITION HALL The main display building hosts a selection of the Museum's bus and vintage vehicle collection.

VINTAGE PUBLIC TRANSPORT & ARTEFACT DISPLAYS Spend time perusing the many exhibits including bus company uniforms, ticket machines from a pre-digital age, model collections, old signage and other items from days gone by.

Founded in 1985, the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum is situated at Lathalmond, a former Royal Navy stores depot.

The 45 acre site includes an internal road system, exhibition hall, workshops and storage sheds, and is also home to the Shed47 Railway Restoration Group.

The SVBM is run on a purely voluntary basis and new members are always welcome - see back page for details.

CAFE

Take a seat and enjoy a refreshment break.

Choose from a selection of drinks, sandwiches and cakes.

SHOP

Pick up a souvenir or add to your model collection from a range of items available to purchase from our shop.

BUS RIDES

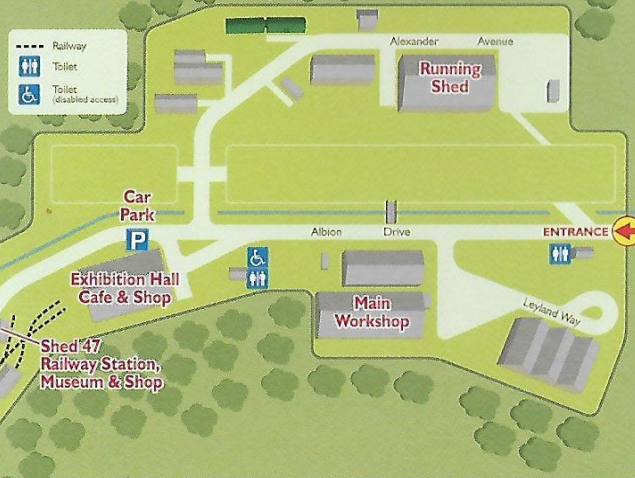

The entrance fee includes a guided tour of the site on a preserved bus by our informative Guide Sunday volunteers.

Hop on and enjoy the ride!

WORKSHOPS

Depending on what's happening our tours will take in some of the workshops to let visitors see the effort required to restore and maintain the collection.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Throughout the year the Museum is host to various transport-related events. More details overleaf and at www.svbm.org.uk

LATHALMOND RAILWAY MUSEUM

SHED47 RAILWAY RESTORATION GROUP

Based in the original locomotive shed at Lathalmond, Shed47 Railway Restoration Group is actively recreating some of the vast internal railway network that existed on the site until 1971.

A selection of preserved industrial locos and rolling stock are kept here, and brake van rides take place at various events through the year. There's also the shop, railway museum and you can also ride on our ever-expanding miniature railway.

Visit our website for opening times and train ride prices.
